

THANK YOU!

The PEN/Faulkner Foundation Writers in Schools program extends thanks and appreciation to all the publishers and distributors who, through donating thousands of books over the years to public high school students in Washington, D.C., Atlanta, Chicago, Detroit and Kansas City, have helped to make Writers in Schools a resounding success. The remarkable generosity of these publishers brought a record-breaking number of authors into classrooms throughout five national cities to encourage the next generation of readers and writers.

Thank you for your ongoing support.
